ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Mrs. Ellen McLaughlin, who died Suna Sunday school. day at her home in East Wallingford, had reached the age of 94 years. at Marshileld Friday night.

Louis Beto, 24, of Bartonville, Sidney were in Cabot Saturday. Wiley of Charlestown, N. H., and Ken-Chariton of Holyoke, Mass., were fined $25 and costs of $6.01, which they paid, for fishing without licenses in Bellows Falls.

Harold F. Johnson, Orleans county agricultural agent and former instructor in dairy husbandry at University of Vermont, was married Monday to Miss Edith Ellen Merrihew of South Burling-

A campaign started a few months by the Baptist church of Brattleboro for conversions, baptisms and church members has brought forth great fruit, for with the baptisms on children's day last Sunday the number had reached 52 and the church membership has reached 701.

One Addison farmer has had a 12-acre corn field ruined by the seed rotting in the ground. At the rate of $8 a bushel seed corn, he and others who have lost less are somewhat discouraged. In Middlebury, grain and wheat crops have been nearly drowned out by the constant downpour.

Determined to bring up his weight to the required standard, Merritt Burgess Bennington has gone on a milk diet he wants to join the Vermont Red Cross ambulance corps. Doctor Stickney of Rutland, who heads the unit, instructed the young man to go on an extensive milk diet to make up the four pounds which he lacks.

Gordon Landon of Rutland, a student at Williams college, has enlisted in the college ambulance unit and goes June 20 to Allentown, Pa., where they will train for three weeks and then go to France. Henry Stickney, formerly employed at the Hotel Berwick in Rutland, has been taking up aviation as a profession at Sheepshead bay, N. Y., and expects to go soon to France as an army partment of agriculture. In view of the present and prospective high prices of soy beans for food and manufacturing purposes, there is no likelihood of overproduction this year. The soy bean also is a soil improver, and the straw is valuable for feeding purposes.

As a seed crop they soy bean should be planted about June 1 in the North. However, in the southern part of the central states plantings may be made as late as June 15. Where clover or grass has winter killed, the soy bean may be planted to good advantage.

Varieties with yellow seeds are preferred by food manufacturers. The Ito San is the earliest maturing yellow variety available and yields well in Wisconsin, Michigan, northern Indiana, Ohio, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. In the central and southern parts of the northern states the Medium Yellow, Mongol and Mikado are more desirable sorts. Considerable quantities of seed of these varieties are still available for planting.

Northern farmers should be particularly variety, of which much seed is in the appear before asid court, at the time and place of hearing.
